Georgetown University: ONLINE Spring 2018
LHV 274-101: Politics of Terrorism: Just War, Torture, Drones, and Humanitarian Intervention

Professors William J. Buckley and Paul Lewis
wjb22@georgetown.edu; pl33@georgetown.edu

How do bullets and ballots affect each other? This exciting course explores the reality and interpretations of Terrorism(s), Torture, Drones, and Humanitarian Interventions. “Politics of Terrorism” focuses on their roles in the American national elections by means of readings, lectures, media, research and focused discussions. “Politics of Terrorism” weighs vibrant electoral processes, living institutions and actual, historical personalities exercising executive power, with pressing foreign policy challenges and nuanced theories of international relations (e.g. termed realism, liberalism and constructivism). For example, do wars and warlike behaviors make presidents into kings— “act[ing] on executive power as... accelerant, causing it to burn hotter, brighter, and swifter” or do they actually constrain leaders with fewer real choices (Yoo, 2009, vii in Howell, 2015)? Close examination of political lessons learned from actual cases, yields different (and sometimes rival) interpretive frameworks. Weekly online practice in learning and applying these interpretive skills to our unfolding national elections enables students to gain new insights into the politics of terrorism, here and elsewhere.

WHAT MUST I DO AS STUDENT? This course is highly interactive. All course readings, videos, notes and outline materials are posted online. Each week, students do six items online: review learning goals, watch a video(s), read selected posted readings, post a one page essay (250 words) that answers an assigned posted question about the readings and video(s), post responses to other student answers, and work on a self-chosen end of semester research project with the Instructor. Every other week, students may choose to participate in a real-time Blackboard online chat with course Instructors. Detailed instructions, outlines, transcripts and notes for all course materials are available online.

- only one Republican and one Democratic candidate speech POSTED ABOVE (and commentators listed) at http://www.presidency.ucsb.edu/2016_election.php
- OR WITH only the Republican and Democratic Convention Platforms from their respective National Conventions. In 2012 the Republican platform, under "American Exceptionalism," used "terror[ism]" some 25 times. In 2016 "Islamic terrorism" is used four times in the Republican platform, and "terror/ism" some 21 other times, and "national security" 18 times. For Democrats, the 2012 Platform uses "terrorism" in a more focused way than "the Bush administration's sweeping and internationally-divisive rhetoric of a global war on terrorism ... [to a focus] against an identifiable network of people: al-Qaeda and its affiliates...." but uses "national security" some twelve times. In 2016 the Democratic platform uses terror/ism 22 times (typically but not always in relation to ISIS) and "national security" six times.
- For Democrats, see 2016 http://www.presidency.ucsb.edu/papers_pdf/117717.pdf; for 2012 at <https://www.democrats.org/party-platform>;

“What to look for?” Key Question: From our posted readings, determine which among many models are used to describe terrorism/national security as threat (crime, war, disease, psychological affliction, etc.). Please note whether, and if so, where and why there are indications within texts of battles over categories used for terror, national security, etc. (E.G. where does the 9/11 document reflect partisan battles fought over the content and language use to describe terrorism?). Do these embattled terms reflect preferences for any of the models of terrorism/national security discussed in readings? What campaign and policy implications do you think these choices entail? E.g. Some argue contemporary terrorism/national security are matters of “war”; others favor models based on public health (“a spreading epidemic”); still others offer legal or jurisprudential frameworks of “crime” (e.g. Cynthia C. Combs, Terrorism in the Twentieth Century, 7th Edition, Upper Saddle River NJ, Pearson, 2012; 378); still others prefer categories suggestive of psychological afflictions (five grievances: Alienation, Humiliation, Demographics, History, and Territory in Jessica Stern, Terror in the Name of God Why Religious Militants Kill, New York: Harper Perennial, 2004).

WEEK 5. IRAQ WAR(S):

WEEK 5 Posted work Deadline Sunday

2003 Invasion of Iraq, Defeat of Baathism, Capture of Hussein, Insurgency, Surge : Roles of media, Candidates, Parties, Executive, Congressional, Judicial, International, Philosophical, Religious Traditions (election impact of occupation, insurrection, insurgency, counter-insurgency, sovereignty, future Americans in country)

As you read, view and write, keep in mind three questions: How were political arguments shaped by a key ethical issue? Was it a Just or Unjust War to invade Iraq, defeat Baathism, capture Saddam Hussein and respond to post-conflict insurgencies (was force justified, how was it used, how was the post-conflict situation handled)? Did the use of force in Iraq help or hinder efforts against terrorism elsewhere?

WEEK 13. HUMANITARIAN INTERVENTION AND PRESIDENTIAL POLITICS:WEEK 13 Posted work Deadline Sunday

CASE STUDIES: Syria

We ask key questions about about the multi-front and multi-party conflict in Syria: How do efforts against ISIS/ISIL and for regime change in Syria account for the history of key internal and external stakeholders described in sociological affiliations (linguistic, territorial, ethnic, religious, tribal, religious, national, international sponsorship)? How are regional changes related to internal changes in Syria? What kind of electoral support is there for leadership regarding different policy options in Syria?

POST: How did politics of the “Irish Diaspora” influence resolutions of ethnic conflict in Northern Ireland? Why and what role did American leaders play in this conflict (George Mitchell)? Are solutions in Northern Ireland suggestive for other conflicts (consociational, McGarry/O’Leary)? After 1700, about nine to ten million Irish emigrate, and according to various data, Scots-Irish (mostly Protestants) emigrate to North America before the 1830’s and “Irish” (principally Catholics) after—leaving about 10.5% of the USA population (2013 Census) as part of the “Irish Diaspora”.

Disabilities

If you are a student with a documented disability who requires accommodations or if you think you may have a disability and want to inquire about accommodations, please contact the Academic Resource Center at 202-687-8354 or arc@georgetown.edu.

Turnitin.com

Students acknowledge that by taking this course all required papers can be submitted for a Textual Similarity Review to Turnitin.com for the detection of plagiarism. Use of the Turnitin.com service is subject to the terms of use agreement posted on the Turnitin.com site.

Extreme weather, Emergencies, and Instructional Continuity

During inclement weather or other emergencies on a day when we are scheduled to meet face-to-face, check the university's Web site or call (202) 687-7669 for information on whether the university is open. If the university is open, this class will meet. If the university is closed, this class will meet through distance means such as online videoconferencing; check your e-mail for a message from me on how we will proceed in that situation. Due dates for written assignments submitted through Blackboard will not be changed due to campus closings.

The university recently has acquired the capability to send text messages and recorded messages about emergencies to cell phones and other mobile devices. Sign up on MyAccess.

Georgetown Honor System

All students are expected to follow Georgetown's honor code unconditionally. We assume you have read the honor code material located at <http://scs.georgetown.edu/academic-affairs/honor-code>, and in particular have read the following documents: Honor Council Pamphlet, What is Plagiarism, Sanctioning Guidelines, and Expedited Sanctioning Process. Papers in this course will all be submitted to turnitin.com for checking.

Submitting material in fulfillment of the requirements of this course means that you have abided by the Georgetown honor pledge:

In the pursuit of the high ideals and rigorous standards of academic life, I commit myself to respect and uphold the Georgetown Honor System: To be honest in any academic endeavor, and to conduct myself honorably, as a responsible member of the Georgetown community, as we live and work together.

Plagiarism

In accord with university policy, all incidents of suspected plagiarism or other Honor Code violations will be reported to the Honor Council without fail.

If the Honor Council finds that a student has plagiarized or has violated the Honor Code in any other way, the student will receive a grade of F for the course.

Policy Accommodating Students' Religious Observances

The following is university policy:

Georgetown University promotes respect for all religions. Any student who is unable to attend classes or to participate in any examination, presentation, or assignment on a given day because of the observance of a major religious holiday or related travel shall be excused and provided with the opportunity to make up, without unreasonable burden, any work that has been missed for this reason and shall not in any other way be penalized for the absence or rescheduled work. Students will remain responsible for all assigned work. Students should notify professors in writing at the beginning of the semester of religious observances that conflict with their classes.

Library Reserves: access through GU email. Click the link below and go to town!

Want to place an item on reserve? Physical or electronic? Book or streaming media? Check to see if Georgetown University Library owns the item(s) here . Secondly, complete the appropriate reserve request form.

TURNITIN Directions for Profs

Georgetown has a full license to use Turnitin.com and other iParadigm products, such as Grademark, etc. Go to www.turnitin.com and click on the "Create Account" button at the top of the Turnitin homepage.

If you haven't already signed up, the information you will need is as follows: account code: 81031; "join" password: classreg2. With that information you can establish your own profile, register your classes(s), and instruct students to submit their papers to Turnitin. Signing up is really very easy, and Turnitin has good "help" features, including a step-by-step tutorial about the process.

2 - Former users:

Many faculty used Turnitin regularly before there was a hiatus year due to budget constraints. Consequently, these former users may experience difficulty accessing their old accounts. Please reply to this email if this happens to you.

We'd like to provide the best help to you. If you would like the Honor Council to submit a paper for you, we can do that, and send the Originality Report back right away.

On using Turnitin, this page is very helpful. http://turnitin.com/en_us/support/help-center

Turnitin available via Blackboard:

Phone Appointments

Because neither phone nor video chat replaces online learning, instructors discern whether and how to make and keep phone and Ichat Skype appointments with students and colleagues. At the Instructor's discretion, such personal access is meant to help you as student address specific problems and enhance learning, not replace course participation in the website. To schedule a phone or Ichat/Skype appointment, email us with a phone number where you can be reached, and some good weekdays and times of day for receiving calls and/or participating in online video chat. Instructors can choose to reply with available hours that overlap with your good times, and we can confirm an appointment. Instructors do not share your phone number or other contact information with any person for any reason.
