Georgetown University's Mission

Georgetown fosters an environment where students can develop their unique gifts and insights through reflection, service, and intellectual inquiry. Students are challenged to engage in the world and to become men and women in the service of others, especially the most vulnerable and disadvantaged members of the community. These values are at the core of Georgetown's identity, binding members of the community across diverse backgrounds, faiths, cultures, and traditions.

Course Description

Public Speaking is a performance course designed to introduce basic principles of public communication and to help students become confident, competent communicators by planning and developing effective speeches that accommodate cultural diversity and target their specific audiences. Also, students will respond to the speeches of other students in class using positive language that is both technical and specific.

Learning Outcomes

Students will:

1. Practice ethical and socially responsible public speaking
2. Craft and present well-organized, thesis-driven speeches
3. Deliver speeches using an audience-centered, extemporaneous approach
4. Present well-reasoned oral arguments that are supported by highly credible evidence
5. Strengthen storytelling skills & explore the power of personal connection to topic and situation
6. Use positive language and specific rhetorical principles to assess the effectiveness of your own and others' presentations

EVALUATION OF STUDENT PERFORMANCE

All Work must be submitted by the due date. No late work will be graded.

Outlines will be evaluated using a checklist. The point system will clearly delineate excellent, good, adequate, poor, or failing effort examining the following elements.

Important!

Your Full Sentence Speech Outline is PREWORK. It is never used to deliver a speech. This outline is not what you say, rather it reveals the relationships among your ideas.

It is a map of the ideas you wish to cover during your speech.

As with any well-planned trip, you map the journey before you begin the in-person adventure.

Complete Full-Sentence Speech Outlines Include:

1. Three Distinct Sections of the speech labeled Introduction, Body, Conclusion
2. Use of capital Roman numerals in each section for Main Points, Capital Letters for Subpoints, counting numbers for Evidence (1, 2, 3...), and lower-case letters for details (see example)
3. Narrowed specific purpose and clear central idea (your value)
4. Strong thesis statement that contains both purpose and value (what and why)
5. Clear, well organized main points that contain both what and why
6. Supporting evidence with in-text citation of sources
7. Complete MLA bibliography with 10 credible sources

Delivery Outline (key word or phrase outline):

Keep the exact same lettering and numbering as your full-sentence outline.

Remove all language/words that you know and therefore do not need in front of you when you deliver the speech.

In the delivery outline, retain the exact quotations, names of sources, and any numbers or dates that you need to speak with accuracy when revealing evidence.

Reduce “stories” that you tell to a summary phrase or sentence.

Speeches will be evaluated using a checklist. The point system will clearly delineate excellent, good, adequate, poor, or failing effort looking for the following:

*Extemporaneous delivery = Not "reading" but delivered with presence in conversational mode

*An Introduction that gains the attention of the audience; introduces the topic clearly; relates the topic to the audience; establishes your credibility; and previews the body of the speech.

*A Body of speech that demonstrates depth and quality in research, clarity of main points, organization of main points, suitable and specific evidential support for those main points, and that reveals your sources.

*A Conclusion that ends the speech in a creative way while reinforcing the central idea.

*Delivery that employs quality eye contact, avoids distracting mannerisms, and demonstrates good use of articulation, pauses, vocal variety, volume, rate of speech, and overall enthusiasm for the speech.

*Use of Language that is accurate, appropriate, and clearly understood.

Final Grade calculation will be done on the following basis:

93-100% = A	88-90% = B+	78-80% = C+	60-69% = D	Below 60% = F
90-92% = A-	83-87% = B	73-77% = C
	80-82% = B-	70-72% = C-

GU Honor Code: Georgetown’s honor system governing students prohibits dishonest conduct and conduct lacking integrity of a variety of kinds, including (but not limited to) cheating on exams, plagiarism, using false citations, submitting work for multiple purposes, submitting false data, falsifying academic documentation, abuse of library privileges, and abuse of shared electronic media. All students are expected to adhere to the following pledge:

“In pursuit of the high ideals and rigorous standards of academic life I commit myself to respect and to uphold the Georgetown University honor system: To be honest in every academic endeavor, and to conduct myself honorably, as a responsible member of the Georgetown community as we live and work together.”
