IEP Policies and Procedures

Georgetown University is an exciting place to study, and we hope that you will come to think of it as your second home! In the Intensive English Program, you will meet interesting people, participate in a wide range of activities to develop your English ability, and learn a great deal about yourself along the way.

This booklet is your guide to the policies and procedures of the Intensive English Program. Please read this information carefully. Pay particular attention to the policies regarding attendance and the discussion of the program curriculum and methods of teaching. These program policies and program expectations are designed to help you learn in a positive and supportive environment. We know that learning another language is challenging, exciting, and sometimes frustrating! The faculty and staff of the IEP are here to help you as you learn and live in this new environment.

Information on F-1 visa regulations is also included to help you maintain your student visa status. Be sure that you follow these regulations while you are living and traveling in the United States.

Use this booklet whenever you have questions about program policies and procedures.

Mission of the IEP

The mission of the IEP at Georgetown University is to provide quality language instruction and cultural orientation to students who require English for their academic, professional or personal needs. The program supports students with different language backgrounds and learning styles by helping them acquire:

Studying in the IEP

1. What to Expect from Your IEP Classes & Teachers

The Georgetown IEP emphasizes using English for communication purposes in academic study and in the workplace. IEP teachers are professional educators with many years of experience. They will provide:

- a course syllabus outlining course objectives as well as classroom assignments and tasks designed to help you develop your reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills
- frequent graded assessments of your performance to determine if you are meeting course goals and learning objectives
- many opportunities for you to use English during class, on field trips, and through email and online tools, including Canvas
- interesting and challenging materials
- encouragement as you pursue your language study

Your teachers will encourage you to use English outside the classroom as often as possible, and they will require you to use English in different situations. The more you practice using English, the more confident you will be about your ability to communicate your ideas and opinions.

2. What Georgetown ELC & the IEP Expect from Students

You have chosen to study in this program so that you can improve your English skills. Your teachers expect you to:

- attend every class -- and be on time
- speak English during classes
- participate in class discussions and activities daily
- produce assignments that meet course objectives
- check email and Canvas daily to be prepared for class and complete assignments
- comply with policies of academic honesty and integrity
- practice English outside of the classroom daily
- behave respectfully toward teachers and classmates

Class participation means contributing to class discussions, responding to teacher questions, being prepared to give presentations, and working with classmates in group activities. Students who are late for class, frequently absent, or unprepared for class will have difficulty meeting course goals and objectives. They may not be recommended to study in the program in the next term.

Academic honesty and integrity, and respectful behavior toward other teachers and classmates, is especially important in order to maintain a classroom environment in which everyone can be the most successful. IEP students are members of the Georgetown University community, which means they are held to the same standards and have the same responsibilities as all Georgetown students. The Georgetown University Code of Student Conduct describes this as follows:

Choosing to come to Georgetown University means joining a distinctive community...Georgetown places special emphasis on the dignity and worth of every person and the love of truth. Membership in this community carries with it high expectations regarding the ways in which each person will act...In particular, students are expected to honor the following commitments in all their actions:

[A commitment to...]

- the highest standards of honesty and personal integrity both inside and outside the classroom.
- treat others in a respectful manner, regardless of differences such as race, religion, nationality, ethnicity, gender, or sexual orientation.
- open discourse and the free exchange of ideas.
- exercise mutual care and responsibility in all relationships.
- an active concern for the safety, security, and well-being of each individual and a respect for individual, communal and university property.

Georgetown University Code of Student Conduct, AY 21-22

In your IEP classes, you will learn strategies and techniques for working with outside sources, and engaging in respectful discussion and debate that are appropriate in US academic and professional settings. This includes giving your own opinions and respectfully agreeing and disagreeing with others. You will learn appropriate language choice and vocabulary for these academic and professional situations. However, your nonverbal communication is equally important in respecting the classroom environment and having concern for the safety and well-being of everyone in the classroom. The following behaviors are not acceptable in the classroom environment as they do not meet the high standards of conduct expected at Georgetown University:

- Raising your voice or yelling during a class session

- Entering the personal space of another classmate or teacher, demonstrated by the setup of the classroom environment and explained by your teachers
- Using unnecessary physical force when moving around the classroom or operating a device in ways that would disrupt normal class or cause concern to others
- Causing physical harm to oneself or others in the classroom environment

Any students who engage in these unacceptable behaviors will be asked to leave the classroom and building immediately, and a report will be made to the appropriate University office. Any student or teacher who feels concern for their safety in their classroom environment has the right to leave the classroom, end class, and/or contact the SCS Security & Front Desk team for immediate assistance (202-784-7375).

3. Attendance Policies

Daily class attendance is essential in language study and is required by US immigration law. You are expected to attend all your classes regularly, participate actively in class, and complete and submit your assignments on time. Excessive absences prevent a student from demonstrating successful achievement of course learning objectives. Failure to follow these rules can negatively impact your immigration status.

Your professors are required to take attendance daily. The Intensive English Program attendance policy requires students to attend a minimum of 85% of their total class hours. This means:

- Students cannot miss more than twenty-one (21) hours of class during an 8-week session. This includes absences if you are sick or have a personal obligation or appointment. As such, you should be careful not to use up your absence hours early in the term for personal obligations in case you need them available for unexpected illness later in the term. Students are encouraged to take care of personal obligations and appointments on Fridays or after 3:30pm on Monday-Thursday.

- Students must arrive to class on time. If you arrive more than 15 minutes late, you will be marked absent.
- If you arrive 1 to 15 minutes past the start of class, you will be marked “tardy” (late). Three “tardies” (lates) will equal one absence hour.

You will receive an “Attendance Warning Letter” if you have 10 or more hours of absences during an 8-week session. You will receive one “Final Warning Letter” if you have more than 16 hours of absences during an 8-week session. If you exceed 21 hours of absences during an 8-week session, you (1) may become ineligible to enroll in the next program session, or (2) you can be dismissed from the program immediately, which will negatively impact your ability to remain in the country. Dismissal from the ELC is very serious, and if you are studying on an F-1 visa, your SEVIS student record is updated, and you may need to leave the country immediately.

NOTE: Only absences due to approved religious holidays do not count toward recorded absence hours. See https://campusministry.georgetown.edu/religious\_holy\_days for the Provost’s Policy Accommodating Students’ religious Observances and a list of religious holidays, which is updated at the beginning of each term.

Being Late to Class – It Is NOT Acceptable

Being on time is a sign of respect in the American classroom; therefore, be sure to arrive on time for each class. When you arrive late, you miss important parts of the class and interrupt your teacher and classmates. If you are late, enter the classroom quietly and take your seat. Do not talk to your friends or interrupt the teacher. If you are more than 15 minutes late, your instructor will mark you as absent.

Reporting absences and requesting extensions on assignments

COVID-19 absences

During the public health emergency of COVID-19, Georgetown University has provided mandatory guidelines for reporting symptoms of COVID-19. If you experience symptoms of COVID-19, you must immediately:

- email all of your teachers and the Student Services Manager (Daniel - dag106@georgetown.edu)
- report your symptoms in the GU360 application
- schedule a Georgetown OneMedical COVID-19 appointment
- check Canvas daily and continue to turn in assignments
- talk with your professors by email or Zoom to make a plan if you need help understanding your assignments or if you need extra time to complete your work

Students experiencing these symptoms are not allowed to be in class, but may continue their coursework through Canvas. If being absent due to COVID-19 results in more than 21 hours of absence, your case will be discussed individually with the Senior Director, Associate Director, and international student advisor.

All other absences

If you are absent for any other reason, these absences are still recorded. In an 8-week program, every class day is important for your progress. If you miss multiple days of class, you will miss graded assignments in class and important lecture materials; the reason for your absence does not change this situation. Students are required to meet the academic policies of the program to move to the next level and enroll in the next session, regardless of attendance, including students who experience unexpected or personal emergencies. You may only receive extra time (extension) to complete your assignments due to a personal situation or emergency if you discuss your situation in detail with your professors and follow their course policies. Failure to attend class and make a plan in advance with your professors may result in receiving zeros or low grades on assignments, tests, or projects that are due or occur in class on the day you are absent.

Students who are absent from class for any reason are still responsible for:

1. Contacting all professors about their situation as soon as possible
2. Checking Canvas and Georgetown email every day for announcements and continuing to turn in assignments on time
3. Requesting an extension if needed, discussing a plan with professors, and receiving final approval for this extension

Note: Students who leave the program early during the last week of class are not eligible for extensions on final projects or tests. Completion of coursework must be done within the dates of the course, according to the policies set by faculty and written in course syllabi. If missing the final project or tests for a course due to absence negatively impacts a student's grade, the student will not receive a certificate and will not be promoted to the next level. If students notify faculty in advance of a planned absence at the end of the session, faculty may allow students to turn in work early on a case-by-case basis. However, faculty have the right to deny this request if it does not work with the curricular plan of the course or requires additional time to accommodate a student outside the dates of a course.

6. Health Insurance

Medical costs in the U.S. can be very expensive. If you visit a doctor, you will need to have medical insurance to help you pay your bill. All IEP students must have health insurance. Georgetown University automatically enrolls F1-visa IEP students in a special short-term accident and sickness insurance plan. The cost for this insurance plan is automatically charged to your account each term. Coverage begins about a week before the start of the program and continues for about a week after the program ends. This insurance should be used at the Georgetown University Student Health Center. The clinic is on the Main Campus and you can see their hours and contact information or make an appointment on their website (<https://studenthealth.georgetown.edu/medical-care/>). If you are sponsored by your government, then this insurance can be waived.

Family insurance coverage is not available for spouses or children. If you would like to obtain health insurance for a dependent, please contact the Student Services Manager, Daniel Graff (dag106@georgetown.edu) for additional information.

For more information on health insurance, please visit the Student Health Insurance page on the Georgetown University website (<https://studenthealthinsurance.georgetown.edu/>).

7. Meeting Program Requirements

Students must attend all 8 weeks of classes in the Intensive English Program to complete the program. All coursework must be completed within the dates of the session.

IEP tuition and fees must be paid during the first week of the term. Students will automatically be charged a monthly late fee if program fees are not paid in full on time. In special cases, students may arrange a payment plan through the Student Accounts Office. Students may not enroll in the next term if they have any unpaid fees, and they do not receive a program certificate. If you are sponsored by your government, it is your responsibility to submit your financial guarantee to the English Language Center (guELC@georgetown.edu) by email no later than the end of the first week.

8. Grades

During the program, your teachers will evaluate your classroom performance frequently to determine if you are meeting the course objectives and outcomes. Evaluation of your work is based on written assignments, tests and quizzes, presentations, and projects that demonstrate your ability to use English effectively. You will have access to your grades and written feedback online at any time during the term through the Canvas learning management system. You may also receive feedback from your teachers during class and individual office hours appointments. Students also receive a Final Grade Report at the end of the program. The Final Grade Report will include a grade for each course and indicate if a student has met the requirements to advance to the next level in the program.

Each course grade is based on your:

1. performance on daily in- and out-of-class assignments, graded quizzes and tests, writing samples, reading tasks, and group projects;
2. achievement of the Objectives and Outcomes identified for your level on Canvas and in the Syllabus given to you in each class (see pages 17-20 for Level Proficiency Scales);
3. active participation in class (discussions, presentations, group activities).

Georgetown University SCS Grading Scale (0-100%)

A	A-	B+	B	B-	C+	C	C-	D	F
100-95%	94.99-90%	89.99-87%	86.99-83%	82.99-80%	79.99-77%	76.99-73%	72.99-70%	69.99-60%	59.99-0%

IEP Certificates for completion of a level are awarded to students whose grade in each course is 75% or higher. Students receiving grades of 74.99% or below in any course do not receive a program certificate for their current level.

9. Advancement to the Next Program Level

Advancement to the next level requires that a student earn a program certificate for their current level. A program certificate is achieved when a student receives a grade of 75% or higher in each course taken in the level.

Note: Students who are placed in combined level classes advance based on their actual placement level (which they will be informed about when they receive their class schedule), not the next higher level of the combined class. Example: A student whose placement scores place him/her in Language & Culture level I but is enrolled in a combined Intensive Language & Culture I & II level will advance to level II after 8 weeks, and not level III.

10. Student Complaints – Solving Problems

If students have concerns or problems with an IEP class, they should speak directly to the teacher about their concerns. IEP teachers welcome your ideas and value your opinions and, in many situations, concerns are easily settled. Occasionally, a student may have a more serious complaint that he/she feels is not resolved through student-teacher discussion.

The following procedure should be followed to register a course complaint:

1. Request an appointment to meet with the IEP Associate Director, who will meet with you to discuss and document your complaint.
2. After reviewing your complaint and discussing it with you, the IEP Associate Director will notify you of any action to be taken to resolve the problem.
3. Decisions made by the IEP Associate Director to resolve a problem or complaint are final.

Along with the policies of the IEP, IEP students are governed by Georgetown University policies and codes of conduct for students. Details about students' rights and responsibilities can be found on the Georgetown University website:

<https://studentconduct.georgetown.edu/>.

Ask your teacher if you need help understanding IEP or Georgetown program policies.

11. Continuing in the Program Next Term

Many IEP students want to study in the program for more than one term. To continue studying in the IEP, students must demonstrate improvement in their language ability. Many students progress to the next level of the program after one term. However, some students may need to repeat a course level in order to meet the goals and objectives of the level. Students who are required to repeat a level will take longer to complete their period of study in the program than those who progress to the next level after one term. A student may not study in any one level of the program for more than two sessions.

Applying for the Next Term

Several weeks before the end of the program, you must respond to the next session plans survey to inform the ELC and the International Student Advisor of your plans when you complete the session. If you require an I-20 extension, you must work with your international student advisor and submit new financial documentation prior to the last week of classes. Schedule an appointment with the International Student Advisor or email elcimmigration@georgetown.edu if you have questions about the process.

Students may be denied readmission to the program if their class performance and/or attendance is unsatisfactory.

IMPORTANT: If you plan to register for the next term, you must meet with the International Student Advisor before the expiration date on your I-20. If your I-20 expires, it is not possible to issue you an “extension of study” which would allow you to continue in the program.

IEP Student Vacation Policy/Procedure

Students who have studied in the IEP for four consecutive 8-week terms of study (Fall I, Fall II, Spring I, and Spring II) are eligible for a Summer break if they plan to return to the IEP for the following Fall I session. Students must complete a vacation request form and submit the form to the International Student Advisor at elcimmigration@georgetown.edu.

12. Withdrawing from the IEP

To withdraw from the IEP, a student must notify the ELC Program Director and Associate Director in writing. Tuition refunds are calculated from the date the withdrawal letter is received. No refund is given for the application fee, tuition deposit or health insurance if a student withdraws after the first week of the program.

The complete IEP refund policy and schedule is available online at the following site: <https://elc.georgetown.edu/>. Students can expect to receive their tuition refunds four to six weeks after exiting the program.

14. Program Dismissal

Students enrolled in the IEP at Georgetown University are expected to follow all of the policies outlined in this booklet and those outlined by individual instructors in their course syllabi. Students who fail to comply with program academic policies, or who fail to pay program tuition and fees, may be dismissed from the program. A student who is dismissed will have his/her SEVIS record updated. You will have 15 days to transfer to another program or leave the country. If you exceed these 15 days, you are considered “out of status.”

15. University Transcripts and Grade Reports

The IEP office will provide you with a verification letter of enrollment upon request to the Student Services Manager, Daniel. An official Georgetown University Transcript may also be obtained from the University Registrar (<https://registrar.georgetown.edu/records/ordering>).

A student may request an official transcript through “MyAccess,” the online student information database.

Resources Outside the IEP Classroom

Not all learning and support takes place in the classroom! Georgetown University and the IEP offer you additional resources and opportunities to develop your English ability while you experience living and learning in Washington, DC, or to improve your quality of life as a Georgetown University student. Be sure to use each of these resources throughout the term!

1. Meal Plans

All students who live on the Hilltop campus are able to purchase a meal plan through their MyAccess account. Leo O'Donovan Dining Hall is the main cafeteria at the University. Students who live on campus may be automatically charged for a meal plan. To view meal plan options visit: <https://www.hoyaeats.com/meal-plans/>.

2. Extracurricular Activities

You will not learn English effectively if you only practice during class. The IEP offers many opportunities for you to use your English outside class, as well as to socialize with your fellow students as you explore Washington, DC. Be sure to participate in these activities!

Interact DC - Guest Lecture Series

Throughout the term, guest speakers are invited to classes and special IEP events. Speakers discuss topics of interest to IEP students such as American culture, the arts, politics, and life in Washington, DC. Many IEP teachers require their students to attend these lectures or events as part of class or course assignments.

Mini-Workshops

Throughout the term, either during the midday break or after classes in the afternoon, IEP instructors organize and hold short (30 minute) workshops on a variety of topics related to English practice or American culture.

Adventure DC - IEP Activities Program

Activities generally include a Washington, DC monument tour, theater performances, sporting events, and visits to outdoor and cultural institutions. Admission fees are required for some events. Activities are listed on the activities calendar for each term and in the Weekly Roundup, a weekly email distributed to students online. You may sign up for these events with the Student Services Manager over Google Forms or during his office hours.

3. Campus Events

Be sure to check the student calendar and check your email each day (using your Georgetown account) for information on campus events and activities.

4. Campus Clubs

Georgetown offers a variety of organizations on campus that IEP students can join to interact with American students. These clubs include sports teams, philanthropic organizations, cultural groups, and more. This is a great opportunity to explore American culture and practice your English.

F-1 Visa Regulations

Important policies govern IEP students' rights and responsibilities in complying with the regulations of the U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE). IEP students should consult with the Program Director when they have specific questions about immigration policies and procedures. The IEP attendance policies correspond to immigration regulations.

1. School Transfer

Students transferring to the IEP at Georgetown University from another school in the U.S. must meet with the Program Director in order to complete the transfer process. Students who have not yet received their transfer SEVIS I-20 must also meet with the Program Director. Failure to contact the IEP Office will result in a loss of immigration status and all attendant benefits.

2. Regulations

Federal regulations place the responsibility of staying in status on you, the student. It is your responsibility to comply with all regulations. Immigration laws require that F-1 students maintain their status or risk being denied entry to the U.S. in the future. By using a Form I-20 for entry into the U.S., you certify that you will follow the regulations on your I-20. Read these regulations carefully. Failure to obey any of these regulations may result in loss of your study privileges and other benefits. Federal law requires that the IEP report to SEVIS and ICE any student who is not maintaining his/her visa status.

3. Travel Documents for Re-Entering the U.S.

If you temporarily leave the United States during the time you are studying in the IEP, you must do the following:

1. Email elcimmigration@georgetown.edu at least two weeks prior to your departure to request a travel signature.
2. When you exit the U.S., take the following documents with you. They are required for re-entry into the United States:
  - your valid passport (for six months in the future) and valid F-1 visa
  - a current I-20 form signed on the back by the International Student Advisor before you leave the United States
3. Follow all CDC procedures for COVID-19, including testing.

Students should not exit the U.S. during the IEP term except during a designated holiday period (Spring Break, Easter, etc.) or family emergency.

Upon reentering, students are required to submit their most recent I-94 to the international student advisor.

4. Length of Approved Stay

If you entered the U.S. on an F-1 Student visa, “D/S” (Duration of Status) was stamped on your visa (Departure/Arrival Record). Duration of Status means that you may remain in the United States only if you are studying full-time and have a valid I-20 from the school you are currently attending.

A 60 day “grace period”, which permits you to remain in the United States, is allowed after you complete your program of study. During this time, you may travel, relax, or prepare to transfer to another school. If you plan to stay longer, you must change your visa status.

If you plan to continue your study in the next level of the Georgetown IEP, you must submit a program extension request at least two weeks prior to the expiration date on your form I-20 to your international student advisor at elcimmigration@georgetown.edu. Once your I-20 has expired, you are no longer eligible to study in the Georgetown IEP.

5. Your Passport

Your passport must remain valid for at least six months beyond the end date of the IEP. You should contact your government’s embassy or consulate in Washington, DC, if your passport will expire within six months.

6. Address Changes – Very Important!

If you change your local address, you must report the change of address to the IEP Office within ten days of your move. This is a U.S. government requirement.

7. Visa Questions

The ELC program director and international student advisor will answer the majority of your visa questions. In some cases, you may be referred to the Office of Global Services (OGS) at Georgetown University for additional guidance or information.
